

SUGAR TRUST MADE DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Trust Is Attacked as Lawless Combination.

SHERMAN ACT VIOLATED

Suit Is Expected to Rank in Importance With Those of Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company, Now Pending.

A dispatch from New York says: The federal government has begun one of its most important actions against great corporations, which are said to have violated the Sherman anti-trust law. Henry A. Wise, United States district attorney, filed in the United States district court for the southern district of New York a petition asking for the dissolution of the American Sugar Refining company and twenty-nine other corporations, which compose the so-called sugar trust. The petition charges an illegal combination in restraint of trade and asks from the court relief in whatever form may be necessary, including a receivership if deemed advisable.

The thirty companies composing the sugar combine have an aggregate capitalization of $230,000,000 and control a large percentage of the output of sugar in this country. The combine is able, the government alleges, to fix prices arbitrarily. The petition charges that for years the companies have violated the law and have oppressed competitors and ground them out of existence. Railroad rebates and customs frauds are mentioned as devices which were employed to raise the combine to the commanding position which it occupies at present.

The present suit, which is estimated to be in the courts for two years before a final adjudication is reached, is the result of many weeks of preparation. District Attorney Wise made his investigation under the directions of Attorney General Wickham and spent several days in Washington in conferring with the attorney general on the final plans.

The suit is expected to rank in importance with those of the government against the Standard Oil company and the American Tobacco company, which are now pending in the supreme court.

MRS. MARY B. EDDY DEAD.

Leader of Christian Science Church Passes to Beyond.

Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, founder and leader of Christian Science, died Sunday morning at her home in Chestnut Hill, Mass.

"Natural causes," explains the death, according to Dr. George L. West, a district medical examiner, who was summoned a few hours after Mrs. Eddy passed away. Later Dr. West added to his statement by saying that the more immediate cause was probably pneumonia.

The news of Mrs. Eddy's death was made known simultaneously by Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the church, at the close of the morning service, and by Alfred Parlow, of the Christian Science publication committee, in a statement to the press.

COPPER COMPANY WINS.

Fighting for Injunction, Capitalists Lose Case.

By affirming the decision of the lower court, the supreme court of the United States denied J. Harvey Ladew and other capitalists of New York and West Virginia relief in the federal courts from the alleged nuisance caused by the operations of the smelters of the Tennessee Copper Company in Tennessee.

Ladew and his associates own large timber interests, aggregating in all 2,400 acres, in Panola, Gilmer and Pickens counties, Georgia.

Just across the line in Tennessee are the smelters of the Tennessee Copper Company and other companies, the sulphurous fumes from which, it is claimed, have been ruining the timber belonging to Ladew and his associates in Georgia.

Several years ago the state of Georgia began proceedings to stop the alleged destruction. The first step taken by Georgia resulted in an announcement from the supreme court of the United States that it would issue an injunction upon the request of the state for the abatement of the alleged nuisance. This application was not made and Ladew and his associates began the fight as individuals for an injunction.

The circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Tennessee dismissed the petition for an injunction on the ground that the action for the abatement of a nuisance was not a suit of a local nature, to enforce a claim against real estate, and as neither of the parties were domiciled within the district, the court had no jurisdiction. From this decision an appeal was taken to the supreme court. The court has approved the finding of the lower court.

DR. COOK HEARD FROM.

Hunger-Crazed He Believed He Reached North Pole.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who now confesses that he does not know whether he reached the north pole or not, had no easy task in disposing of what he describes as "The Story of Cook's Trip to the North Pole," according to reports reaching New York from London.

The Brooklyn explorer, it is stated, is living in seclusion in an obscure boarding house in Bloomsbury, a London suburb, and there had written the story which he hopes will restore him to a degree of favor in this country.

It appears that for weeks Dr. Cook, eager to return to his home in Brooklyn, sought through a literary bureau to sell his latest story to London magazine publishers. One thousand dollars, it is said, was asked for the story, which the London editors declined to accept.

Cook, in his story, which is soon to appear in this country, asserts that, half-crazed with hunger, he believed he had reached the top of the world. It was learned that Dr. Cook was in the United States early in November, and came here to conclude the arrangements with Hampton's Magazine for the publication of his story. He came by way of Canada and met the publishers at Troy, N. Y.

After concluding the arrangements for the publishing of his confession, Dr. Cook returned to Europe.

FREIGHT RATES ON W. & A.

Commission Decides Lessee Not Complying With Lease Terms.

It is said that unless the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, lessee of the Western & Atlantic railroad, which is the property of the State of Georgia, sees fit to abide by the terms of its lease in the matter of freight rates from Atlanta to Chattanooga it may become necessary for the governor to declare the lease void and take over the road.

After thorough investigation, the railroad commission has reached the decision that the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad Company is not complying with the terms of its lease in this important particular and will immediately certify the case to Governor Brown for whatever action he may deem advisable.

Bridge Over St. Johns.

One of the largest railroads in the State of Florida has asked permission of the war department for the right to put a railway bridge over the St. Johns river at Cook's Ferry, just above Sanford. If the privilege is granted the road will build a new line in that section of the state. When the permanent structure is put in place it will have a 60-foot draw, but during the construction it is proposed to put a 25-foot draw in the temporary bridge.

LIFE SENTENCE IS GIVEN WENDLING

Found Guilty On Circumstantial Evidence at Louisville.

PROTESTED HIS INNOCENCE

The Evidence, However, Pointed So Strongly to Janitor as the Slayer of Alma Kellner That Jury Had Little Trouble in Reaching Agreement.

Joseph Wendling, at Louisville, Ky., was found guilty by a jury of the murder of 8-year-old Alma Kellner and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment.

The verdict came after a day spent in argument by attorneys and the reading of the instructions of Judge Gregory. Although there were four possible verdicts the jury might have returned under the instructions of the court, the verdict was merely "murder."

The evidence presented against Wendling was purely circumstantial. Since his arrest and throughout his trial, he denied any knowledge of the fate of the Kellner child.

Witnesses testified, however, that Wendling, the janitor at St. John's Catholic church, was seen in the church the morning Alma Kellner last went there to mass. The child was never seen again, and months later charred and dismembered portions of her body were found hidden beneath the church music room.

Alma Kellner was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kellner, of Louisville, and a niece of Frank Fehr, brewer, who spent much time and money in the search for the child and in the prosecution of Wendling.

The trial has been one of the most celebrated ever held in the state.

91,193,490 SOULS.

Tentative Estimate of Population of the United States.

The population of the United States should be 91,193,490, if the rate of increase shown by states on which complete returns have been received and tabulated by the census office is maintained.

Counting New Mexico and Arizona for present purposes as states, the full returns of the enumeration under the thirteen census have been tabulated for three out of forty-nine and the District of Columbia. They show a grand total of 66,355,175, as against 53,299,626, for the same area in 1900. This is a gain of just 20 per cent, over the 1900 figure. A corresponding increase for the sixteen remaining states would bring the figures for the entire country to the number stated.

The states not yet announced are Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, North Dakota, North Carolina, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Of these, it is expected that Texas and Washington will show very large increases and that Georgia, New Jersey, Montana, Utah, Wyoming and the Dakotas will go beyond the average, so there is little doubt that the exact figures will be even more than the present tabulation indicates. It would not be surprising if the aggregate would be almost 91,500,000, which is 1,500,000 more than has been generally estimated.

NEURO BANDIT KILLED

Held Up Train on 'Frisco Road, But Lost His Life.

Jack Thomas, a negro, of Blytheville, Ark., turned bandit, terrorized and robbed passengers aboard a west-bound St. Louis and San Francisco fast train and in the end was shot to death by A. B. Walton, railroad watchman.

The train, the St. Louis-Memphis Limited, had just started across the bridge over the Mississippi on the outskirts of Memphis, when Thomas, revolver in hand, came through the doorway which separated the white and colored compartments, and in true frontier style proceeded to terrorize the passengers and rob them, when the watchman appeared upon the scene and shot Thomas through the heart. The negro tried to return the fire, but fell dead.

FIGHT WITH CRAZED MAN.

Hospital Physician Had Struggle to Save His Life.

Lying on his back in a corridor of the Punksutawney, Pa., hospital, Dr. C. Montgomery, a resident physician, battled for his life with an insane patient, Mike Markute, who died two hours afterward from what hospital authorities said was Bright's disease. Dr. Montgomery was summoned to the ward by cries of a nurse, who said she had been attacked by the man when she gave him medicine. The doctor hastened to quiet him, but was himself attacked.

An orderly hurried to his assistance, but was knocked down with one blow. Markute was choking Dr. Montgomery when Superintendent J. E. Grub arrived. For fifteen minutes the struggle continued before Markute was strangled in his bed. His death quickly followed.

Stricken With Paralysis.

While en route to Maitland in a buggy, Deputy Sheriff John Gordon was stricken with paralysis. He was found lying unconscious in the buggy by Martin Doyle, of Winter Park, who happened to be driving along the road later.

Five men are dead as a result of a premature explosion of dynamite in a Santa Fe rock cut east of Barstov, Calif. Supt. J. C. Mohler and three Mexicans were seriously injured.
